DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim 38 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. the recitation "computer readable medium embodying machine executable instructions for controlling a communications device to implement a method" is not disclosed in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

3. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

4. Claim 38 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claim is directed to non-statutory subject matter such as a machine executable instruction which embodies in a computer readable medium. Since, the claim does not contain a computer readable computer embodied with a computer program which is executed by a computer to perform a method; the computer readable medium is a carrier signal which conveys a computer code. Therefore, the claims do not fall within the product classes, machine and composition of matter.
